

NCEPOD

Testicular Torsion study

NCEPOD are developing a study to look at testicular torsion in young people.

We are looking for children, young people and parent carers to take part in online focus groups

What will be involved?

You will be involved in an informal discussion with others who have had experience of testicular torsion. We will use the information collected to help develop the study, and identify what to look at in more detail. All information collected will be kept confidential and anonymous.

Who can get involved?

Children, young people and parent carers of young people who have had experience of testicular torsion.
